

ANOTHER SHOCK COMES
Charleston Again Visited by the Dreaded Earthquake.

RECOVERING FROM THE FRIGHT.

The Attitude of the Czar Proves His Willingness to Bring on War—A Police Officer and His Prisoner Have a Fatal Fall.

From the Earthquake Region.
New York, September 6.—William A. Courtenay, Mayor of Charleston, arrived yesterday morning on the steamer Ketchikan from Liverpool, and proceeded by the first train for Charleston. He authorized the statement that he will accept and be responsible for all the costs that will be incurred by the National Guard to Charleston, where they are imperatively needed by many suffering and homeless people. To secure this, he has appointed a committee of arrangements. William L. Hattie, of Charleston; W. H. Hiett and J. H. Lammie, the headquarters of the committee are at 217 Broadway, New York. Funds will be forwarded by the steamer Delaware (Pier 27 North River) of the Charleston line, free of charge, on Wednesday, September 14th, or by express, if they can be procured sooner. In an interview Mayor Courtenay said: "Knowing the attitude of our people as I do, and their courage and bravery under all circumstances, I am satisfied from the news I found here on my arrival up to Saturday afternoon, that the suffering require immediate and substantial relief. Many thousands of people must be provided with shelter from the weather at once. Hundreds of houses will have to be rebuilt, and a very much larger number must be inhabited until extensive repairs are made. It is a case of hunger, and if fully understood, will, I am sure, be fully met."

Charleston, September 6.—Charleston was quiet yesterday, and the soldiers stationed at the different religious meetings, which were held in the open air, and a church in Charleston is considered safe for occupation, and the ministry of different denominations for this reason held their services in public parks and in grounds adjoining the churches.

It is said by some that no doubt that estimates of the loss by earthquake are far below the mark. The City Appraiser, who has gone over the whole of the city and is familiar with the value of property, estimates that it will cost at least $5,000,000 to rebuild the city. It is estimated that it occupied only a week ago, buildings which were considered entirely safe are now discovered to be in a state of ruin. Many persons who thought that they had escaped without injury, find themselves confronted by damages which are entirely beyond their means to repair. It is for this reason that there is so much anxiety. Two of the Government Engineers are expected to-day, and, in addition to these, the Secretary of the Treasury was expected yesterday to detail a number of civil engineers from the office of the Supervising Architect of the Treasury to examine the work thoroughly examining every building, so that the extent of injury, and whether the building is habitable, can be ascertained. It may be definitely ascertained.

Relief Committee, with the assistance given and promised, will be able to supply the necessities of the homeless, and can furnish them also with such food as they require. There were yesterday, in Charleston, many persons who were suffering from want of food and meat, and who were unable to help themselves. Their hands, however, began to be better, and will be quickly met. Government tents have been erected in encampments in different parts of the city, where full attention will be given to the necessities of the homeless. It is estimated that at least 5,000 persons will need shelter for weeks to come, and it is proposed to erect huts on the public grounds for the accommodation of those for whom tents will not suffice. Ample accommodations will be provided for colored refugees, as well as for the white. A large number of persons have been taken to the city, and a glance at even the generous assistance given to Charleston by the warm-hearted people throughout the United States will be entirely inadequate to meet the emergency. If Charleston is to be rebuilt, if the shattered houses are to be restored; if those that are in a dangerous condition are to be made safe, Charleston must have, at an early date, a command of at least $10,000,000, to be lent at a low rate of interest, upon security of the property of the city. It is for this reason that the plan in this regard is especially advocated. Indeed, there is a disposition to wait the arrival of Mayor Courtenay, who is expected to arrive on Wednesday, and will be here on Tuesday. In his courage and ability, as well as his unselfish detail, the people have full confidence. His presence here will be worth a thousand men to Charleston.

There was another shock at 11:05 last night, but it was very slight, and was about two seconds. The prevailing belief is that the worst is over, and that the inhabitants are reasonably secure from further visitations of such kind. This belief is based mainly upon the assurances of scientists, who say there is only the slightest probability of another visitation of the same severity, and that the city is now in a state of security. With the feeling of comparative security thus engendered, citizens who left the city in last night's earthquake have begun to return in small numbers, and visitors and night-seers are putting in an appearance. Four times as many people were registered for dinner at the hotel yesterday as at any time since the visitation of the earthquake, and all available rooms at the various hotels were engaged for last night. Very few of the regular inhabitants will return to their homes during the week; in fact, it is only the most daring of strangers who yet venture into the city. It is for this reason that there is no true appreciation of the effect a severe shock would have at this time, when houses hang together by slender threads.

Tents from the War Department and from Wilmington were mostly put up in the park facing the battery and overlooking the confusion of Cooper and Ashley rivers, leading out to the bay. As the men peered through the scrub oaks and into the tents yesterday morning and the inhabitants turned out to greet their first Sunday morning since the disaster, a thrilling scene was presented. Scores of children were seen gamboling on the green; mothers were making the beds of their infants; servants were preparing breakfast over oil stoves, and men were in the grove after a battle, discussing the past, present and future. Within a space 200 feet wide by 150 feet in length, probably 1,000 persons were gathered, and the scene was a picture of peace and order.

The Lake Park Resort Company have employed a Grand Silver Cornet Band to play at Lake Park every day and evening during the bathing season. They will furnish music all the time, and will be a most enjoyable entertainment for the day at the delightful resort. The splendid pier, extending 200 feet into the lake, has been covered and provided with seats and incandescent electric lights, making this a charming feature of the new resort.

The correspondent states that the news of Alexander's abdication caused the utmost indignation among German army officers. Advice from Vienna says the news of Alexander's abdication was received with consternation there, the Prince's action being looked upon as the beginning of a serious stage of the Balkan question. It is believed in Vienna that the abdication will not deter Russia from attempting to occupy Bulgaria, a proceeding which Austria cannot allow.

Princeton, September 6.—The Russian party here, headed by the Russian Consulate, signs of great activity, and are preparing an address to the Czar. OVER A CLIFF.
A Pittsburgh Rough Resists Arrest, and He and an Officer Receive Probably Fatal Injuries.

Pittsburgh, September 6.—A sensational and probably fatal accident occurred at about 10 o'clock yesterday night. Officer Wood and a man named Homan, who was arrested, fell over a cliff on Locust street and both are not expected to survive the injuries they received. Homan was engaged in a street quarrel, and when the officers arrived took to his heels. Wood gave chase, and finally drew his revolver and shot at the fugitive. The ball taking effect in his left forearm. They were then not far apart, and when Homan felt the ball enter his back, he stopped. He was then taken to the edge of a precipice fifty feet high. It was the work of an instant. They clung, but a short, hard tumble, and suddenly both men disappeared. When other officers arrived no man was in sight, but a faint cry from over the cliff attracted their attention. Looking down, they saw two men were seen stretched motionless at the bottom of the cliff. Wood was unconscious, and both men were terribly injured. They were carried to the police station, and afterwards removed to the hospital, where they are now lying. Homan was resting easier last night, but Wood is suffering intensely, and may die at any moment.

COMING TO SALT LAKE.
Ranchers to Try His Luck at Our Fall Races.

The Fall meeting of the Salt Lake Racing Association begins September 24th, and closes September 29th. The first race is the 2 1/2 mile class for a purse of $500, and at the rules of the Association provide that no record made after August 1, 1886, shall be a bar. Mr. Sam Scott, on Wednesday, telegraphed, entering Ranchers for the race. On the 24th the purse is $400 in the free-for-all trotting race. Mr. Scott also entered Ranchers for this race. He will go down in a couple of weeks to get "Track" acclimated before the races. The race is said to be a fast one, but only a half-ton, which may be a disadvantage to a horse accustomed to a mile track, but the Utah flyers will have to work their ruddies if they beat him anywhere.—New Northwest.

Put in a porcelain pan, and pour over enough water to cover. Boil for one hour. Scenes of Fear and Misery in Her Wrecked Streets.

The Heaviest Rain Storm Ever Known in Scotland Visits Glasgow—New Special Agent for Fraudulent Land Claims.

Latest from the Earthquake.
Charleston, September 6.—At 9 o'clock this morning the headquarters of the relief committee, at the city buildings here, was crowded by the unfortunate earthquake sufferers. One member of the committee is kept busy writing passes on railways to transport sufferers to other points. The committee prefer to give this character of assistance above all others. Its gets unfortunate away. Orders for rations are being issued. Money is given to no one. During the risk of applicants for aid, a large section of Meeting street in front of the Court house, opposite the City Hall, fell out. The streets of some of the debris which now lie in the ruins of the city. The committee is assisting about one-third of the entire population of Charleston. Mayor Courtenay is expected to arrive to-morrow, and will hold a special meeting of the City Council, when decisive steps will be taken to afford protection from falling buildings, and clear the streets of debris which now lie in the ruins of the city. Disasters continue to pour in offering aid. About $50,000 have already reached here. From indications at hand, it is believed that the contributions will finally aggregate $500,000 and that $200,000 will have arrived by to-morrow night.

The "Thunderer" on Bulgaria.
London, September 6.—The Times of today says: The Regency Committee, composed with or without Russian partisans, can only hasten the day when the people of Bulgaria, wearied and dispirited, will abandon their dreams of autonomy, and welcome Russian dominion as the only means of escaping anarchy. The fate of the city of the Russian troops into Bulgaria is an important detail. All that has been effected by the signing of the Russian and Bulgarian peace is an enlargement of the scope of Turkish empire, which Russia secures by the operation. German and Austrian indifference probably springs from a conviction that their inability to prevent the Russian advance. The central Powers can be making the best of the unpleasant and unavoidable circumstances, but they cannot pretend that the course of events is precisely such as they would prescribe were they masters of the situation.

The Bulgarian Trouble Spreading.
London, September 6.—Dispatches from Serail say: King Milan of Serbia, who, with his Prime Minister, was on his way to Gienekberg, has, on account of the gravity of the situation created in the Balkan States by Alexander's abdication, abandoned his contemplated journey and arranged to return to Belgrade. The Bulgarian crisis, it is feared, will have a critical effect in Serbia.
